

BALTIMORE HOME COMING SEEKING EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Baltimore Homecoming is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization mobilizing Baltimore alumni around the U.S. to re-invest in Baltimore City. Since our founding six years ago, we have built a network of more than 1,000 high-profile alumni, held dozens of events, raised millions of philanthropic dollars for Baltimore nonprofits and helped businesses raise millions of dollars more in investment, engaged nearly 100,000 residents of Baltimore in our programs, established strong media partnerships, and earned the support of the city's civic, political, and business leaders. We are now seeking a seasoned executive with deep experience and relationships in Baltimore who can build on this foundation and take the organization to the next level.

The Executive Director will manage strategy, planning, and execution for Homecoming and has ultimate responsibility for all operations. The Executive Director will play a particularly important role in leading fundraising efforts and cultivating relationships with high-profile alumni. The Executive Director will work closely with the Homecoming Board of Directors, which includes leading business and nonprofit executives from around Baltimore.

- Has deep, longstanding, trusted relationships among Baltimore City's business, civic, and political leaders;
- Has held one or more senior leadership roles at major Baltimore corporations or institutions;
